WELCOME

Welcome — and thank you for being here

We're a volunteer board of homeowners, elected by this community. Our job is to protect property values, maintain the neighborhood we all share, and keep you informed every step of the way.

6. A community vote ahead
7. Open Q&A with the board

ROLES

HOA vs. property management

Two different roles working together. The board sets direction and makes decisions; the management company carries out day-to-day operations under the board's instruction.

The HOA Board

Volunteer homeowners, elected by you

- Sets policy and direction
- Approves budgets & expenditures
- Oversees reserves & finances
- Decides community priorities
- Enforces the governing documents
- Answers to the community

Property Management

A hired company, paid per home

- Collects dues & pays vendors
- Prepares the monthly financials
- Processes work orders & ARC requests
- Mails notices & statements
- Conducts routine site visits
- Acts under the board's direction

4-5 Months In: What We've Been Working On

Volunteer board, in office since late January / early February 2026

ALREADY DONE

- ✓ Playground upgraded: fence and enhancements
- ✓ Two community events: spring cookout and Easter egg hunt
- ✓ Stop sign and leaning signs across the neighborhood repaired
- ✓ Overgrown areas behind homes and along the trails cleared by our new contracted vendor
- ✓ Community-wide enforcement review for consistent, fair application
- ✓ Reconciled financials and opened the books for any homeowner to review
- ✓ Launched community website (mpyork.com) and added text + email communication
- ✓ Solar light fixtures installed on entrance pillars

IN PROGRESS

- → Working with the City of York on traffic safety; they will conduct a study and advise on what can and cannot be done
- → Researching new landscaping companies to better fit our needs
- → Reviewing ARC request fees and guidelines so routine items don't need a full request
- → Seeking community input on changing management companies

The Violation Process

How a notice becomes (or does not become) a fine

A reminder is not a fine. You get four chances to address an issue before a fine is ever issued.

1

STAGE 1

Friendly Reminder

First notice of an issue. No fine. Just an FYI to give you a chance to address it.

2

STAGE 2

Warning

Formal notice that the issue still exists. Still no fine.

3

STAGE 3

Notice of Hearing

Invitation to a hearing where you can present your side before any decision is made.

4

STAGE 4

Notice of Hearing Results

Outcome of the hearing.

5

STAGE 5

Notice of Fine

Only at this stage is a fine actually issued.

FINANCIAL TRANSPARENCY

Open books: where the money is

Every figure on the following slides comes straight from the association's own financial statements as of April 30, 2026, and current bank balances. Nothing is missing — here is exactly where things stand.

Where your dues go

The 2026 operating budget by category. Dues fund the day-to-day care of the community — landscaping and grounds are by far the largest piece.

About that grounds number

Grounds is our largest category, about $81,000 budgeted for the year. It covers everything outdoors: mowing, mulch, and seasonal plantings, plus the pond, pet-waste stations, and repairs like trees and signage as needs come up. About $28,080/yr of that is the base grass-cutting contract.

Every part is itemized and accounted for. We spend it on real work as needs come up, like recent tree additions and upcoming sign repairs.

FINANCIAL TRANSPARENCY

Budgeted vs. actual — the real story

Here is the annual budget for each category alongside what has actually been spent through April 30. The association is well under budget across the board and posting positive net income year-to-date.

The takeaway (as of April 30, 2026)

- Landscape maintenance: $28K, budget was $43K
- Grounds: $81K budgeted, spent $24K through April
- Overall operating: $124K budgeted, spent $43K through April
- Positive net income year-to-date (about $8,000 ahead of plan)

Our landscape contract is $28,080/year ($2,340/month). Grounds includes the landscape contract plus pond, seasonal plantings, and other grounds work.

FINANCIAL TRANSPARENCY

A healthy reserve — on purpose

Reserves are the community's savings. A strong reserve is deliberate: it keeps dues stable and lets us maintain the neighborhood without surprise special assessments.

Total reserves

~$288,000

Held across the reserve bank account and a reserve investment account — and growing month over month.

Reserve bank account	~$186,000
Reserve investment account	~$102,000

Why it matters: a healthy reserve is what keeps your dues stable and protects the community from special assessments when big repairs come due.

FINANCIAL TRANSPARENCY

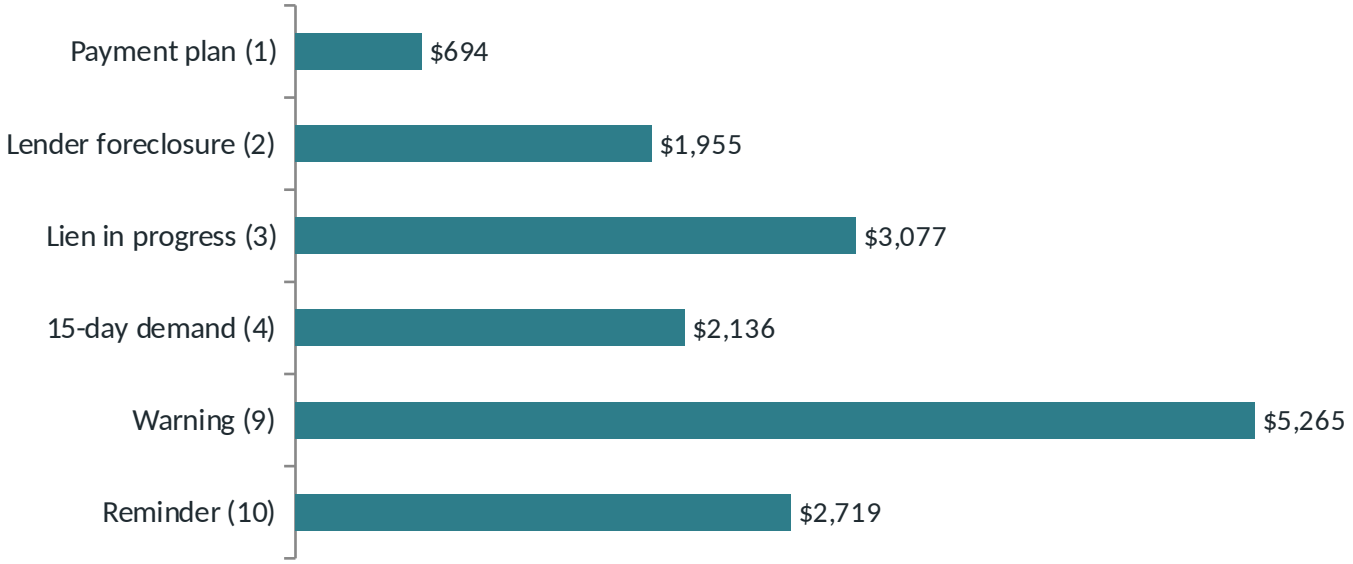

What's owed — and how we pursue it

Unpaid dues aren't a hole in the books. They're money owed to the association, and we actively pursue collection so the cost doesn't fall on neighbors who pay on time. As of April 30, this total was up from about $9,000 in January, so we are watching it closely. (No names or addresses are ever shared publicly.)

We follow a process

Accounts move through clear stages — reminder, warning, demand letter, lien, and foreclosure — applied consistently to everyone. Seven accounts are currently in active collection.

Fairness to paying neighbors is the whole point.

FINANCIAL TRANSPARENCY

Why some line items show $0 budgeted

This board has served about six months, after a two-month onboarding. We inherited a budget we didn't write. Some needed expenses had no budget line — so, with board and management approval, funds were drawn from existing accounts. These were approved decisions, not hidden ones.

Playground fence

Approved and paid from existing grounds accounts

Community cookout & social

Approved spending after years without events

New website & communications

Approved to reach homeowners directly

> Every one of these was approved by the board and the management company. Tonight's whole purpose is to show you the books — openly.

FINANCIAL TRANSPARENCY

Approved, recorded, and under budget

A few specific expenses have drawn questions. Here is the full context, straight from the financial statements as of April 30, 2026, and now formally ratified in the board's June 3 minutes.

A safer playground

Our playground needed a fence, a real safety matter for a community with children. The board approved it, about $5,257. It is recorded and was formally ratified on June 3.

Why the sheet shows “pet-waste”

On the statement, the fence shows under the pet-waste station line, because that is the budget line the funds came from. Same $5,257, fully accounted for, nothing hidden.

“At or over budget” items

Overall operating spending is essentially on budget, and most big lines run well under. A few small line items running over is normal — and far outweighed by the larger savings.

Every figure here comes from the financial statements anyone can read. Each item was a board decision — recorded, and now formally ratified.

FINANCIAL TRANSPARENCY

How our dues compare

A look at nearby York-area single-family communities. We pay the least — while still offering a playground and walking trails that some same-priced neighbors don't have.

Community	Monthly dues	Amenities	Built with
Monterey Park Our community · 157 homes	$82	Playground + walking trails	Few amenities
KB Homes Nearby	~$86	Common area only (covered table)	No amenities
Brighton Springs York · single-family	~$99	Covered pavilion, walking trails, playground	Amenities
Fergus Crossing York · single-family	~$102	Built with amenities	Amenities
Cannon Village York · single-family	~$114	Built with pool + cabana	Pool

Figures are approximate, from public new-home listings and community knowledge; single-family dues shown. Nearby townhome communities run higher (~$270–$279/mo) — a different product the HOA maintains far more of.

FINANCIAL TRANSPARENCY

A fair rate for what we have

Amenities are built into a community's design — and its dues. We were built on limited land with few amenities, so our dues stay low. That's not a shortfall; it's the deal our community was built on.

Lowest dues

At $82/mo, we pay the least of the nearby single-family communities — and below every one we compared.

Real amenities

We still have a playground and walking trails — more than some neighbors paying the same or more.

Priced to match

Communities charging more were built with pools and extras. We weren't — so we don't carry that cost.

> Bottom line: we pay a fair rate for what our community was built with — and we're getting good value for it.

HOW WE COMPARE

Why their budgets look bigger

If a neighboring HOA seems to have more money to spend, it usually isn't because they're better run — it's because they collect more in the first place. Here's what drives that.

More units paying in Communities that mix townhomes with single-family homes simply have more households contributing dues each month.

Townhomes pay much more

Townhome dues run far higher (~$270–$279/mo vs. our $82) — so a few townhomes add a large amount of monthly revenue.

More to maintain

Bigger budgets also mean bigger obligations: pools, cabanas, and extra amenities cost money to run all year.

The takeaway: we do more with less. Smaller, single-family, and amenity-light by design — so we keep dues low and still maintain the community well.
